

Sclerotherapy

Sclerotherapy - is a procedure used for many decades to treat spider veins. Small injections with a special solution are administered into the veins which irritates the linings of the veins and cause them to swell and stick together. The treatment usually last 30-45 minutes. After the injection you may be asked to wear the support hosiery for at least one week.